Salesman Claims He Was "Thrown Over" After Being

ORLANDO, Fia., Nov. 13.—(F)—
Because he was "thrown over" after being in love with her for six years, was the reason R. C. Patton, traveling salesman from Brooklyn, gave authorities today for shooting Mrs. Cora Lee Eden, divorced wife of the late James Oliver Curwood, the author, and then turning the gun on himself in an effort to "put an end to it all."

Both are in a hospital here following the shooting, which occurred at Mrs. Eden's home on the Winter Garden road late yesterday, when Patton called to see her. Mrs. Eden was shot through the mouth and has been unable to make a statement because of her wound. Patton's condition is serious. He fired a bullet through his lung.

Suffering from intense pain, but still able to talk, Patton, who travels for a Brooklyn metal stamping company, but whose home is in Lima. Ohio, told authorities he drove out to Mrs. Eden's home yesterday, accompanied by H. O. Taylor, of Orlando. They found her in the yard, a pistol in one hand and leading a dog with the other, he said.

Patton told the officers that when he asked her to have a talk, she threatened to turn both the dog and pistol loose on him and ordered him away.

The traveling salesman, who is the father of six children by a divorced wife, is alleged to have drawn a pistol, shot Mrs. Eden through the mouth and then turned the weapon on himself.

State's Attorney C. A. Boyer, who talked with Patton in the hospital today, said no action would be taken against him pending developments in the condition of the wounded counle.
Patton has a daughter-in-law, Mrs. R. C. Patton, living at 553 Spring street, Lima, Ohio. She was notified of the shooting in a long-distance telephone message from authorities here.

LANIER ADMIRERS DENY DIXIE POET KILLED HIMSELF

Admirers and lovers of Sidney Lanier said Wednesday that the southern poet died of tuberculosis and did not commit suicide, as was stated Tuesday at Valley Stream, N. Y., by Donald Rockwell, brother of Ruth Rockwell, who ended her life Monday in a leap from an airplane at Curtiss Field, New York.

New York.

They also said that Rockwell was in error in saying that Lanier had written any suicide poems. In speaking of his sister's death Tuesday, Rockwell had said that "she read poetry—particularly the poems of Sidney Lanier—his suicide poems—you know he committed suicide himself."

self."

W. C. Johnson, general manager of the Chattanooga (Tenn.) News, said Wednesday that this statement of Donald Rockwell "does an injustice to the southern poet. Sidney Lanier contracted a severe cold while in military prison at Point Lookout, Chattanooga, which later developed into consumption. He died in North Carolina. He was a godly man and if any of his poems referred to suicide, authorities here cannot recall them. I am inclined to believe that Rockwell confused Lanier with some other poet."

YOUNG REYNOLDS WINS IN FIGHT TO DRIVE AUTO

LONDON, Nov. 13 .- (A)-Richard Joshua Reynolds, wealthy young American who is serving a five-month imprisonment term for manslaughter, today successfully forestalled a police attempt to prevent him from driving an automobile again when he leaves prison.

Reynolds, who comes from the wealthy tobacco family, was sentenced for killing Arthur Graham, a motorcyclist, while driving an automobile on a foggy night last May.

A charge of driving to the danger of the public was brought up in the magistrates' court today. Reynolds was not present, but his counsel argued that the magistrates had no right to undertake what in effect was an increase of the sentence already passed.

The magistrates ruled that the case must go on but after hearing evidence decided that the alleged offense had not been fully proved, and dismissed the case. In pressing the charge, counsel for the police department had asked that Reynolds be forbidden to drive for a large paried of time.

There is magic in the phrase, but ow crystalize this most desirable state of being into a practical actual-

The attempt to do so is what has led thousands of people to plunge in the stock market, with not always pleasing results as the whole country has recently had cause to realize.

When the Woman's Auxiliary of the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children decided to repeat their achievement of last year in sponsoring a large rotogravure section of The Constitution devoted to advertisements in the form of photographs of prominent Atlanta women indorsing Atlanta products and merchandise, there were some who said that it would be difficult to put the thing across this year because of the heavy losses in investments suffered by many business men. This has proved an erroneous conclusion on two counts. In the first place, the recent flurry in stocks has had no power to effect the soundness of general business conditions which are better than for some time past. In the second place, those who have discovered that speculation by no means assures a future free from financial care are looking about for investments that will bring permanent as well as rich returns. What, they rightly argue, can be a better investment than advertising?

That this argument has a substantial basis of actuality is proved by the fact that the women who are soliciting advertisements for the rotogravure section of The Constitution of December 8 are meeting with a far more generous and spontaneous response than they did for the edition they sponsored last December. For instance, some of the merchants who asked for $75 worth of space last time are quick to buy $200 and $300 worth of space this year. Nor are they doing this for altruistic reasons. They not results, and so they realize the value of this particular advertising

ANCIENT PREJUDICE REMOVED

AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE assures the freedom of the press—Public opinion has been freed from the tyranny which denied it the right to pass judgment on public questions.

"toasting did it"-

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

TEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of I modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended "It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"-LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process-removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

Islands.

The papers have recently shown us photographs of models for those float-ing islands that American airial navigation companies are going to in the middle of the ocean, as way houses for airplanes on the regular trans-atlantic route of the future These islands, made of solid blocks of cement, steel-encased, are to be fastened to the bottom of the ocean by cables. There will be hotels on them, gasoline filling stations, repair shops, and such-like institutions. It sounds wonderfully well. Only the wonderfully well. Only men who are to be the inhabitants are to be pitied. Unless they're born be the inhabitants sailors, it will mean permanent sea-sickness, for nothing in the world can prevent those islands from rocking and dancing like an old water-soaked tub. And then if it were our lot to be marooned on such an island, would be in constant fear that the cables would snap and the island started to move, not to speak of break ing up or running on the rocks. Even the Armada was shipwrecked, you should not forget. Before taking our hypothetical position on the island would ask one question: is there dder to this thing in case of emergency? And then another: why not install some motors or at any rate some sails so that we could have at least a try to prevent the island from landing at the North Pole or some cannibal-infested strip of coast, that if the cables broke. Those yet unfleeced may save themselves by learning the two basic facts of finance.

First, the degree of risk increases with the percentage of profit. Second, no investment is absolutely safe.

The safest of all investments is a government bond, but even governments have repudiated their debts. Federal and state bonds are as safe, however, as anything can be in an uncertain world, and offer the ideal investment for those who dare not lose. Their one fault is that they pay a low rate of interest.

Municipal bonds are safe, also, but they pay little more than the others; and if city officials fail to build a sinking fund, as frequently they do, the bonds lose reputation and are not easily converted into cash except at a sacrifice.

There are industrial bonds that are safe unless hard times or mismanagement bankrupts the company back of them; and there are real estate nds-small shares in a mortgage on some income paying skyscraperthat are safe if the bonding company doesn't lend too much on a property and its officer don't pocket the money, as one set did a few years ago.

Buying good bonds of any kind is a way to save money, but it isn't way to get rich. In fact, it's much like building a savings account in a bank—except that banks pay less and occasionally go broke.

People who have to grow rich by investing a small capital or continued savings must buy a share in the growth of the country. They A few thousand dollars invested in the better-known stocks 20 years

The questions asked, as outlined in the memorial as read by Judge Clement Sutton, were as follows:

1-The total paid out of funds of the board for your expenses to the last democratic convention. 2-To the last republican convention. 3-Detailed statement of your expenditures at each of these conventions. 4-For the expenses of other persons at these conventions. 5-The account of "your expenses" at the Asheville anti-Smith meeting. 6-To the anti-Smith meetings held over the south later. 9-"Did the board authorize these expenditures?" 10-The amount of your expenses paid out of funds of the board in the campaign for the governor of Virginia. 11-The expenses of Bishop Cannon in the campaign paid out of funds of the board. 12-Did the board authorize these expenditures? 14-How much money is now owed the board and by whom? 15-On what date did Bishop Cannon repay the money he borrowed to pay expenses of the call for the Asheville meeting? 16-From June, 1928, to July, 1929, did the board receive any income except from the usual sources and if so, from whom? 17-Will you permit me, if I so request, to see the minutes of the board and its financial records?

In that event such a board might commit a trespass soon after the session of a general conference, and there would be no relief for the one trespassed upon for four years unless we went to civil courts. LEAD MAN TO SUICIDE ORDER OF SERPENTS BY CITIZENS, SOUTHERN Will Be Honored By Mates Today

Recognition of the supreme sacrifice made on the football field will be paid by fellow students of James Huff Rosenblatt, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. F. Rosenblatt, when the Boys' High school football player is laid to rest in a West View emetery vault today. The story of the football scrub who gives his best and bears the brunt of the gridiron season with seldom a chance to share in the glory of the "big game" is eloquently told in the recent grim experiences of this local high school lad.

It was last Wednesday, in scrimmage, preparing the Boys' High team for its big battle that was to win for it a 7-to-7 tie with the strong Lanier High school eleven in the Armistice Day game at Macon, that young Rosenblatt received a fatal bruise on the hip.

He was unable to watch his team play Armistice Day; he never returned to school since the ill-starred scrimmage. The bruise became infected and Tuesday night the lad died of blood-coleoning.

William Rosenblatt, brother of the gridiron victim, had gone through the same period of preparation for college football. But fortune smiled upon him and today he is a lineman on the Vanderbilt University team.

James Rosenblatt was one of the most popular boys at school and was a member of the Theta Kappa Omega fraternity.

Funeral services will be conducted from the residence, 99 Inman circle, N. E., at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. Dr. W. L. Duren, pastor of the St. Mark Methodist church, to which Rosenblatt belonged, will officiate, and interment will be in West View.

Besides his parents and brother William, he is survived by two sisters, Mary and Ellen Rosenblatt. Mary and Ellen Rosenblatt.

Wednesday cost Attorney Will Murrell a short visit to Fulton Tower and the sum of $25 on a contempt of court charge.

Murrell entered a plea of guilty for a young negro when told that his client would be placed on probation with two other negroes involved in the same case. In the office of George Allen Maddox, probation officer, Murrell objected to the terms of probation and was charged with saying that the judge had inveigled him into entering a plea of guilty for his client.

Probation Officer Maddox reported the matter to Judge Wood, who ordered the sheriff to collect a $25 fine or take Murrell to jail for 10 days. The attorney was carried to the tower, but was released later in the day when the fine was paid.

The plans drawn several years ago was pointed out by Mr. Torras, who declared that further delay would mean that it would cost many thousands of dollars more to put the plan into operation later on.

"There is a leredy an imposing for larger quarters.

"The desirability of grouping such structures into a civic center is manifest. The project could be carried out with no great additional expense. But if such action is to be taken, the block to form the plaza should be placed under control immediately and acquired as rapidly as possible, so that no expensive structures will be placed there to block the development at some future date.

"Under plans drawn several years ago by Harrison Bleckley, there could be worked out a revised design which would, at comparatively small expense, give Atlanta a handsome community center. St. Louis and other large cities are spending vast sums of money on such projects, and they consider the money well seent. Atlanta could achieve extraordinary results with much smaller expenditure.

CRASH IN MARKET HELD NO EXCUSE FOR LEAVING WIFE

The recent stock market crash is not a valid excuse for abandonment, Judge G. H. Howard ruled Wednesday in Fulton superior court in sentencing Roy Burnett to 12 months on the chain gang and six months in jail on a charge of abandoning his wife and three children. In order that the family might not suffer, Judge Howard accepted Burnett's promise to support the wife and children, and suspended the sentence.

the wife and children, and suspended the sentence.

Attorney Thomas Goodwin, in argument to the jury, said that many men were affected by the drop in the stock market and that some were forced to abandon their families. Assistant Solicitor-General John H. Hudson objected, and pointed out that no evidence had been submitted to show that Burnett had lost anything in the stock market. Judge Howard then ruled that it was no excuse even if he had lost in the market.

The Coming of

NATURAL GAS

TO ATLANTA

It is a wonderful story—the story of bringing Natural Gas to progressive Atlanta from the gas fields of Louisiana; through the swamps and lowlands; over the mountainous country. It is a problem that challenges engineering genius; thousands of workmen, tons of machinery laying miles and miles of huge steel pipe.

> It is a wonderful story, and we are proud that "Simpson Service" is a medium selected to tell it to the citizenry of Atlanta. Picturing the advance of this cleaner, finer, cheaper fuel toward Atlanta, films will be presented in twelve of the city's motion picture theatres.

> > The ATLANTA GAS LIGHT CO. has selected motion picture advertising to acquaint the public with this good news, to tell them about Natural Gas, its advantages and usages, the romance of its transmission from the wells of Louisiana to the homes, stores and factories of Atlanta.

It was an incredible tale that Bruce poured out. Rapidly the scene changed. He never seemed to have been more than a month in one place. In Burgna he had stayed with a coffee planter, a Dutchman. "A bad egg. He had his eve on a certain Eurasian girl. . He suspected something finally. I ran, and she was there waiting. She had a sort of raft ready for me on the river. "Come on!"

"Wait till I finish the whisky."

The cab crawled through the traffic of a sleepless city, and came at last upon the silence of the Post road. It was a long journey. Bruce swigged at the bottle, throwing it through the window finally a mile away from home.

Tom felt vaguely worried. He had equipped himself earlier in the evening with a box of expensive chocolates, but surely Suzanne would be asleep by this hour. He had drunk viry little. Bruce had had most of the bottle, but showed no effects.

For the last hour Tom had been sitting with legs crossed on the slapdown seat in front of him. It wasn't until he arrived that he realized that his right foot had gone to sleep. Getting out, he stumbled and swayed. At that moment he looked up at the

He paid the chauffeur, and led his friend inside. He talked in a whisper, as if fearing to wake someone. "There's your room. See you in the morning. I get up at seven."

"Right!"

Tom stole down the hallway on tiptee, and Bruce entered his own room, switched on the light, pulled off his own coat in leisurely fashion. He was not yet sleepy, and he got into bed without turning off the light. He had a final cigarette there.

Suddenly there came to his ears a faint but sharp sound, like an outcry. He heard a series of sharp rattling noises, as if a handful of pebbles had been dropped on the floor. Through the walls came a woman's voice, lifted in fury. He could just make out a few words here and there.

"I don't care . . . won't stay here if he does . . . coming home to me like this . . . hate you . . . oh, why didn't I?"

The knowing young man thoughtfully puffed at his cigarette. He

TRUTH IS MIGHTY

... and Majestic Advertising Has Always Been Truthful Advertising

There is no substitute for truth. Anyone can paint a beautiful picture with words. But the real artist must toil long and arduously, until he learns with hands and brain to produce a painting which the world will look up to and exclaim: "There, indeed, is genius!"

Mother Goose tales make good reading for children, but grown-ups cannot take them seriously because they are not backed up with facts.

When Grigsby-Grunow Company advertised that it was manufacturing and selling 6,000 complete radio sets per day, it was not a word painting nor a fairy tale. It was a fact, accomplished and demonstrated before the eyes of all who came to see.

When Majestic announced that in the past five months it had sold more than ninety millions of dollars' retail worth of radio receivers, this also was a fact, easily substantiated by reports of auditors.

When Majestic announced "You cannot buy a better radio set than Majestic at any price," the manufacturing world was startled. Envious people disapproved. But hard-headed business men and humble workers who own Majestic sets, and are proud of them, will tell you that this slogan also is true.

There has never been nor never will be a statement put in print by the Grigsby-Grunow Company, unless it can be substantiated by proof. Facts so demonstrable that even the lay mind may comprehend. Whether you own a Majestic or are merely thinking of owning one, you have a right to know that Majestic is still far and away the leader in sales, in popularity and in singleness of purpose --- to give the greatest value that brains and unlimited production facilities may offer, for the least money.

It is high time the public was informed of the Facts.

In the language of the Better Business Bureau: "Before you invest, investigate."

Ethics of some manufacturers in making wild statements and wild claims about sales of radios are deplorable. It is up to the public—it is up to you to test their truthfulness. Just ask for the facts and figures. Don't be misled by word pictures. Before you buy a radio, assure yourself that the brand you are buying will be on the market not merely for another week or month, but that you will be proud of its purchase in years to come.

Majestic has led, is leading and will continue to lead.

Majestic hereby invites, and urges you, the public which supports it, every one and any one, to compare it. Test the tone with any other set in the world, examine the cabinet in comparison with any make of receiver ever made—look at the power pack and speaker—scrutinize the chassis. Then decide whether or not Majestic really is better.

Majestic challenges any radio manufacturer in the world to disprove the slogan, "You Cannot Buy a Better Radio Set Than Majestic at Any Price."

RIDING 76 CIRCUIT METHODIST CONFERENCE By Thos. M. Elliott

Bishop Beauchamp evidently doesn't intend to let this conference session get behind with its program, although it may have to elect 20 general conference delegates and spend time debating memorials. So he ordered three sittings of the conference the first day, and they were busy ones, too.

secured nine new subscribers to the church paper, the Wesleyan Advocate.

Jabesh Gilead, the delegate-at-large from the Rural district, says he was so confused during the intense debate Wednesday morning he hardly knew just which way to go or what to do when he got there. He said that arguing about the resolutions reminded him of the race between Silas Crabtree and Hiram Applety for justice of the peace away back yonder in reconstruction times. Uncle Jabe says he came near splitting his sides laughing, when Rev. H. C. Christian of Augusta, moved that two men of like stature as Dr. R. G. Smith should be appointed to lay Dr. Smith himself on the table. Uncle Jabe says he was at that laymen's meeting Tuesday night, and he was fully in accord with the sentiment expressed that Bishop Warren A. Candler should not be supersonnuated at the coming general conference. Uncle Jabe further says he is having the time of his life so far at the conference, mixing up with the preachers and laymen, and staying at the Piedmont hotel. He says that's the finest boarding house he was ever in, and that he plans to be sure to see the gal in the fountain before he goes back home.

The commission was created by a resolution, presented by Charles T. Coleman, an elder in Dr. Smith's church as his representative. Adoption of the resolution was haved by his supporters in the presbytery as a victory. Mr. Coleman's original motion named three members and before adoption by a narrow margin of votes it was amended to include four more, of which the moderator, the Rev. M. A. SUBJECT OF INQUIRY Better Than Whiskey For Bad Colds

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspironal, the two-minute cold reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold remedy they have ever tried.

To get rid of that cold, step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk 60c for a bottle of Aspironal, the liquid cold remedy, and tell him to serve you two teaspoonsful. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold fading away. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite and expect you to try, it.

Take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and children, for Aspironal is by far the safest, most effective, easiest to take and the most agreeable cold remedy for children as well as adults. Quickest relief for catarrhal croup and children's choking up at night. All druggists carry and guarantee Aspironal, the largest selling liquid cold remedy in the world, (adv.)

Whittington Enthusiastically Received in Piano Recital

Extraordinary skill as well as indubitable talent won an enthusiastic reception for Dorsey Whittington, celebrated American pianist, at a recital at the Woman's Club auditorium Wednesday night.

One of the most striking of Mr. Whittington's renditions was his encore, the Chopin Fantasie Impromptu in C sharp minor, which was made famous in George du Maurier's novel, "Trilby." This was Svengali's favorite piece. The artist showed much spirit in playing the beautiful, swift melody which was so well vocalized by la belle Trilby. It seemed like an old, familiar face, and contained much hidden power and elasticity beneath its brilliant exterior.

Two of his own compositions, March Grotesque and Impudent Dance were played by Mr. Whittington. Both were quite similar in feeling, exhibiting an elf-like movement. ultra-modern in their disregard of classic conventionalism. The two pieces proved very pleasing and amusing, and were well approved by the attentive listeners.

Pick-Mangiagalli's Dance of Olaf, the concluding number was in the same spirit as Mr. Whittington's original compositions. "And it was Olaf,"

Variegated Displays Charm Miss McClatchey Visitors at Lovely Exhibit

HE SOUTHEASTERN FLOWER SHOW opened yesterday with an efflorescence of color and beauty rarely seen in Atlanta. Highly bred roses, chrysanthemums, lilies, orchids—every kind of flower—added its part to the general total of loveliness. The of flower—added its part to the general total of loveliness. The exquisite new Hill roses were, undoubtedly, the favorites among the first of these. Their full-petaled, true-rose-colored hearts and slightly lighter shaded outer leaves, their durable stems, their almost unequaled staying powers, make them roses of remarkable value, and priceless for the sick room as well as for the home, as they bring with them such splendid color, beauty, and vitality.

The Permet, another new rose, is dazzlingly beautiful. It is a yellow rose, neither gold nor cream, but yellow like a young canary bird, or a fragrant lemon lily. There are wonderful displays of Premier Radiance, Crimson Lake and Golumbia Pink roses, of orchids, lilles, of everything except American Beauties. These seem to have gone out of fashion.

The central area of the main arena of the auditorium was laid out as a French garden after Leontre, Louis the Fourteenth's famous gardener, who designed and perfected the grounds of Versailles. After the manner of Leontre the lovely geometrical flower beds were composed entirely of potted plants massed together. Leontre was the first to sink the plant—pot and all—into a garden. When a plant had bloomed out he could, he found, remove it pot and all, and sink a fresh blooming potted plant of the same species (already growing in the greenhouse for this emergency) in the same place without disturbing the effect in the slightest. By doing this he often changed the entire color of a bed or border overnight to the amazement of the French court and the king himself.

NTENSE interest, excitement even, was centered around the competitive displays of the different Atlanta garden. clubs, each a miniature modern garden. Mrs. R. L. Cooney, its president, Mrs. William H. Hill, Mrs. Charles Sciple, Mrs. John E. Murphy and many others were grouped around the model garden shown by the Peachtree Gar-den Club during the early part of the afternoon, and which re-ceived, and certainly deserved. first prize in its class.

You have heard of velvet lawns. In this model garden this well-known figure of speech became a reality - fresh, well clipped, growing, as soft to the touch as velvet, with the same sheen of light upon it. This extraordinary result was produced by Mrs. Phinizy Calhoun, who, by Mrs. Phinizy Calhoun, who, having placed crocus sacks on spongy turf, scattered special seeds over them and, as the turf beneath held the moisture (which was plentifully supplied) the grass grew apace. These sacks were easily lifted up and spread in the model garden.

A great amount of watering, from little pots and big ones, will be going on all day and part of the night at the flower show, for all of these little model gar-dens have real grass and real flowers growing in them and care must be taken lest they fade too

There was general rejoicing when the Premier Flower Club, of which Mrs. Edward Cawthorne is president, took first prize in its class. The design, a very tiny one, was very accurately planned in the scale of one inch to one foot. It is a dainty thing, full of exquisite miniature plants, with a tiny long, narrow, lily padded pond separating its main ap-proach into two paths which join again and continue up a few steps, to a higher level and end at a garden wall fountain. The portion of the model was copied from Mrs. Cawthorne's own garden as a compliment from the club to its president. Mrs. Lewis Hoppe, Jr., was director of the exhibit and designer of this first-prize garden. One of the greatest successes of the exhibit was the garden designed and executed by the eleven and twelve year old members of the Rosebud Junior Garden Club. den Club. It was one of the largest and most elaborate of all the model exhibits and contained everything apparently that children like in a garden—a pergola, a maypole with tiny dolls dancing, swings, games, garden seats, everything. The rear garden was even more elaborate. Brooks ran through it, two of them, to be

HE model submitted by the Druid Hills Garden Club was to my fancy one of the best of all. There was a sort of romantic grandeur about it, small as it was. Far back, beyond sweep of green sward, on a slight elevation, against a background of tall cedars, stood a red and grey Italian house of almost ducal dignity. The proportions of this model, the scale on which it was planned, were all most in-

Mrs. William H. Kiser, a devoted garden grower, was one of the early arrivals at the flower show.

Around the side of the arena other gardens were growing-rock, English, Spanish (with

GEORGIA Girl Gains Weight Amazingly

Children suffer when they don't observe regular bowel habits. Breath becomes fetid; tongue coated; eyes dull. A host of ailments; biliousness, feverishness, lack of appetite follow if we neglect this warning that a child's bowels need help.

In such cases, California Fig Syr-up never fails to help by the prompt opening of clogged intestines. The first spoonful does that; and relieves the common symptoms of constipa-tion. Successive doses help tone and strengthen weak stomach and bowels; improve appetite; encourage digestion and assimilation. In a few days, a child is well, happy and oright again.

The way children improve when The way children improve when California Fig Syrup is used, is the best proof of its merit. Here's an example: Mrs. R. B. Fox, 88 Atlanta Avenue, Atlanta, says: "Sarah Joe was bothered with constipation several years ago and I decided to give her California Fig Syrup. It made such a difference in her that I have used it since then for every little upset. It helps her digestion; regulates her bowels; keeps her strong and energetic. One great reason is a discovery that science made some years ago. It was found that most fat people had an underactive gland. That gland largely controls nutri-tion, and its weakness leads to fat.

Modern physicians, since that discovery, have applied a new treatment to obesity. They have fed the lacking substance.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

UNC BILLY POSSUM IS TEMPTED.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Temptation never quits until Desire has attained its fill.

-Old Mother Nature. Unc' Billy Possum couldn't get the thought of chickens out of his head He had found some feathers where Reddy Fox had dined on a hen and Reddy Fox had dined on a hen and the sight and smell of those feathers had stirred such a longing for a chicken dinner that Unc' Billy just couldn't get the matter out of his mind. He didn't know where Reddy had caught that chicken, but he guessed that it wasn't far away. He wished he knew whether Reddy had caught that chicken, out if the field, or if he had somehow managed to get into a henhouse. He knew his own chances of catching a hen, or even a half-grown chicken, outside of a henhouse were very slim, indeed, unless he could get into a henyard and corner one there.

Now, the nearest henyard was that

Now, the nearest henyard was that of Farmer Brown's Boy. Unc' Billy knew that, Once long ago he had visited that henhouse. He had visited it and he had been caught there, and forthwith he had made up his mind to keep away from there for the rest of his life. He had done pretty well, He had kept away from there. But now the longing for a chicken dinner was tempting Unc' Billy more than he had been tempted for a great while.

But common sense told Unc' Billy to keep away from Farmer Brown's henyard. Common sense told him that he was safest over in the Green Forest. But common sense and appetite very often do not agree. When they disagree, common sense seldom wins. The more Unc' Billy thought about a chicken dinner the more necessary it seemed to him. He was being ery sorely tempted, was Unc' Billy. He couldn't think of anything but chicken, and as he thought about it, he kept moving along, moving along toward the Old Orchard, along which the old stone wall reached almost up to the henhouse.

Unc' Billy had actually turned to do just this when another sound was borne to those small, but keen ears of his. A young rooster was trying out his voice. Unc' Billy stopped abruptly and cocked his head on one side, that might listen better. There it was again! Unc' Billy started slowly along the old stone wall. He was being ery great indeed. But even yet Unc' Billy was cautious. He wasn't quite ready to yield to temptation. He still had sense to know that it would be best for him to keep away from that hen-yard.

No team this year can be taken too lightly, and it will be remembered what the Petrels did against Citadel, only one week after their victory over Georgia in Athens. The Petrels were victorious in their only home games this season, with Dayton and Manhattan, and they played a great game against the strong Villanova eleven in Philadelphia.

Tulane, then, has been playing against weak conference teams of the .188 class; Tennessee has been beating the .235 class; Vanderbilt has been playing stronger opposition that rated .278.

On the other hand, Alabama's opponents have played .625 football, winning more games than they lost; Tech's opponents have played .762 football and .762 football and .762 football and .763 football and .764 football and .765 football and .765 football and .766 football and .766 football and .767 football and .768 football and .769 football and

CONCLUSIONS.

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 13.—(P)
Shooting a sensational 66 for a new course record on the final 18 holes of play, Willie Klein. pro at the Wheat-ley Hills Club, Williston, L. I., today won the tenth annual mid-south open golf tournament with a total of 138 for the 36-hole event.

Dan Boardman, Linewood Club, Atlantic City, copped second place with a 142. He holed a 35-foot put on the 36th hole to nose out Francis Gallet, of Mikwaukee, who took third by one stroke.

This mathematical expression of the strength of opposition faced applies most fairly to the three undefeated teams. It shows that Vanderbilt has beaten stronger conference opposition than either Tennessee or Tulane.

Yet the figures also show that Alabama, Tech and Georgia have been playing much stronger schedules than their compatriots.

The season is not yet finished and these ratings may be changed somewhat, not materially.

changed somewhat, not materially.

THREE GOATS.

The conclusion that may be drawn is that Alabama, Georgia, Auburn and Georgia Tech are foolish to contract hard schedules and allow their opponents to frame easy programs.

That is, unless Tech, Auburn, Georgia and Alabama enjoy being trimmed out of everything but their honor on the football field.

They should quietly insist on a parity of opposition. They should not let the opposition take on a couple of rest games immediately preceding the big contests.

VANDY NOT SO FAR SHORT.

Let it be said that Vanderbilt's schedule is much harder than Sally Franchise the figures show.

The Commodores played Mississippi when Ole Miss was doped to win and defeated them in the first game of the season. Reference to the scores show that Ole Miss receded steadily after Vanderbilt softened them up.

Furthermore, the Commodores went north and played Minnesota, which at least was a severe tax on their physical reserve. Then taking on Alabama, Tech and Tennessee in a row is a satisfactory test for any team.

COME ON, BE FOLKS!

Tech and Georgia already have announced enough of their 1930 schedules to show that neither is taking a backward step. They are keeping up the standard they set this year. The others ought to do the right thing and take on a few tough opponents. The trick of resting up on state normal schools and unior colleges should be outlawed.

The Signal Corps quintet, trailing badly throughout the first half and part of the second, found the secret of success in the closing moments of the fray and downed the Ordnance team by a 17-13 count. The winners were blanked during the first period, leaving the floor on the short end of a 7-0 score. The Ordnance went on to run the lead to 11 points before the Signallers found the loop. Once on, they never got off, however, and tossed their way to victory.

In the night-cap the Coast Artillery Corps, defending champions, fought back from a trailing position just before the close of the first half to knot the count at 8-8 and went on to take a short lead which was never headed, though the Infantry threatened constantly. The Coast Artillery lads kept their margin to win at 22-19 by furious play.

Coach W. A. Alexander has mustered his squad in the sick bay, sent 11 men to defend the Flats against the inrush of the Crimson Tide.

INJURED LEFT. Dispatches from Tuscaloosa indicate that Coach Wallace Wade has cut all telephone wires leading to the hospital, left his cripples to get well as best they can and picked out one full team to face the Yellow Jackets.

These two teams will be sent into action and will be left there as long as they can stand up. It will be a finish fight, whose finish only the game can determine, but a fight nevertheless. From all the signs in the sky, this reporter wants to advise one and all who like old fashioned battles to the death like Jack London used to write about to find seats with the congregation at Grant Field. From 2 o'clock on 22 boys are going to give their last good square inch of epidermis and their ultimate ligament for the old school and no quarter will be asked. full team to face the Yellow Jackets.

RESERVES MISSING.

RESERVES MISSING.

Both Tech and Alabama are suffering from a severe shortage of reserve strength just now. Injuries, bona fide mishaps, have stripped the varsity squads to the bone. The Tech varsity squad, so-called has 34 names on the roll and in an ordinary season 23 of those names no doubt would adorn the Grey Devil roster. The same can be said of the Alabama varsity squad. When a man comes out of the Tech-Alabama engagement Saturday it will mean he is sorely hurt.

That sounds harsh and may seem will mean he is sorely hurt.

That sounds harsh and may seem to paint a lurid picture of the game. Yet the eleven starters that Coaches Alexander and Wade have been drilling this week in the mud are in fine shape and able to take care of themselves in any company. They HAD to be tough to get this far with two legs under them. Tech and Alabama have played he-man schedules, if anybody asks you.

A BUSY WEEK.

Tech has scrimmaged every day this week; a new combination with Law at guard in place of Jim Brooke and Maree at tackle and Strickland at fullback has been sent through the hardest three days' work a Jacket eleven has had this year. The old emergency exists. It hovers over the Flats like a cloud. The Engineers have won two Conference games and lost three. If the record is to be saved, Saturday is absolutely the last day of grace.

The old emergency exists. It hovers over the Flats like a cloud. The Engineers have won two Conference games and lost three. If the record is to be saved, Saturday is absolutely the last day of grace.

Alabama has won three and lost two, a bitter morsel under the tongue of a team that was tipped as a possible champion. The Tech game is the big one for the Cvimson Tide.

The post-war series between Alabama and Tech stands at events. This game will let the winner smile in a patronizing manner at the loser for another year.

game will let the winner smile in a patronizing manner at the loser for another year.

So no wonder the spotlight is swinging again to the Flats. The game is such a good card that it divides the stage with the championship game at Knoxville, where Vandy and Tennessee have their ancient feud hopped up with championship spiking.

games has not yet been dispelled.

Jesse Thomason took part in the stiff workout but his shoulder was still ailing from a blow received in the Tech game last week. Others of the squad were slowed up with minor hurts.

Vanderbilt coaches are, worried only at the probability of a let-down physically. The Commodores have been at the peak in two successive Saturdays to beat Alabama and Tech.

Against Alabama they won without appearing particularly impressive. In the first half against Tech they displayed a rhythm and a power that was as astonishing and unexpected. The two games left them jaded and worn.

VOLS REST.

UNIVERSITY, Ala., Nov. 13.—
Alabama's Crimson Tide got in a real dabama's work Wednesday after being rain-bound for a couple of days.

The program consisted of a long signal drill and a scrimmage against Georgia Tech plays, with the Alabama reserves representing the Yellow Jackett. The variety backfield was operating most of the time without the services of Randolph "Spinner" Campbell ran signals for a brief spell during the opening period of practice in the quarterback position, abowing very plainly that he was bothered with his leg injury.

HURT SATURDAY.

WOLS REST.

In marked contrast is the Tennessee condition. In the past two weeks they have constead against Auburn and Carson-Newman. The regulars were at Nashville when Carson-Newman was beaten. The Vols have had two weeks in which to relax and prepare for the Commodores. The Commodores have been going at a blistering pace while the Vols rested.

It is questionable whether or not the Commodores can recuperate. Back in 1923 the Commodores can recuperate. Back in 1923 the Commodores held Michigan to a 3-to-0 victory at Ann Arbor. The next Saturday that Outfielder Elliott Bigelow had been released outright to the Chattanooga club of the Southern Association.

Last fall a hard game with Kentucky left the Commodores jaded for the Jackets in Atlanta. It is this condition which coaches fear.

The Tennessee line outcharged and outplayed the heavier Alabama forwards and the backs laughed at the clumsy antics of the Crimson backs in trying to make ground.

The Commodore line will be no heavier than that of the Vola. New Organization Would Promote Athletics, Natural Rivalries.

Unless a lot of our best citizens have been speaking through their kellys just for exercise, there is going to be some forensic pyrotechnics at the Baton Rouge meeting of the Southern conference next month.

There is a restless stirring about as some of the boys wear thin the soles of their pants listening to the claiming and the caterwauling that is going on over the length and breadth of the fair southland. Mammy!

And the restlessness is sure to cause some pedagogue with an athletic attachment to rise at Baton Rouge and ctually mention the splitting of the

If one of the officials of the conference will merely hum the refrain to the old, old ballad that some of the outsiders have been singing for years there will not be many more gallons of water to skid under the new state highway bridges before something is accomplished along that line.

There is already a definite sentiment for the secession of Georgia Tech, Georgia, Vanderbilt, Tennessee, Alabama, Auburn, Tulane, L. S. U.,

Georgia Athletic Director Lists Great Plays of Past Years in Dixie Football.

By H. J. Stegeman, Director Athletics, University of Georgia.

Some days ago on a train trip with a football crowd the conversation turned to linemen. In listing the great linemen I have seen in the south since the World War I had no intention of making a complete list | three important factors which are re- of stars, or of selecting an all-star team—just more or less recollecting sponsible for the rapid-fire manner in names of men whose performances in games have impressed me. It is always rather amusing to me to read articles that purport to have football knowledge in which the writers talk of the offensive strength of certain teams in terms of backfield names only.

You read constantly of people as they become more familiar with the technic of football coming to the the exception of the first and second rows, was already sold, for the Davidson alumni had already been given an opportunity to make reservations for this annual mixup between two ancient football rivals.

For guard pesitions I remember most prominently Jones and Hazler, Rives of Vanderbilt, Walter Godwin and Drennon of Georgia Tech and Whelchel and Smith of Georgia. WADE'S POLICY.

In the practice combination it can readily be seen that Coach Wade is following his policy of mixing up the personnel of the rear works as to defensive and offensive power. Vines is a great bulwark of defense against passes, His specialty is flagging down enemy passes, although he is also an adept at quickly diagnosing enemy plays. Vines carries enough football brains for a whole backfield, and his generalship is being looked to for results. Leon Long, one of the toughest men to ever play football at Alabama, is a great blocking and tackling back, and can root under a line on occasion.

Suther is a fine broken-field runner. He has been harassed by injuries throughout his college career, and turned in his best college performance last Saturday against Kentucky.

MYSTERY PURCHASE.

MYSTERY PURCHASE.
What the Garden has bought remains a mystery in fistic circles, since Schmeling has declared emphatically, by cable to the United News, that he will fight under no other management than that of Joe Jacobs. Joe is under ban by the New York state athletic commission as well as by the Garden, and it seems that unless someone backs water, the Garden has tossed $50,000 out of the window. As far as Campolo is cencerned, he was useless to Fugazy, since he had every difficulty in collecting $230 for his various fights in New York. Yet Fugazy has succeeded in selling him to the Garden corporation for $15,000.

Those who claim that every branch of sport today is better than it used to be, might consider the matter of punting,

How many kickers are there now around who could out-punt or outkick Hirschberger, of Chicago; George Brooke, of Pennsylvania, or Pat O'Dea, of Wisconsin?

Recently some one mailed in an old clipping of the 1894 Harvard-Pennsylvania battle, where George Brooke, now one of Pine Valley's steadiest golfers, played a star role.

In this game Harvard punted over Penn's goal line. They called it "in touch" at that date. Penn brought the ball out to the 20-yard line to punt over the Harvard center, standing on the 25-yard line. The Harvard team was lined far back to receive the kick. The field was then 110 yards long. That day there was no helping wind of any kind. Brooke's long, high spiral soared over the head of Harvard's last back, playing deep, rolled on to the goal line and as Hayes, of Harvard, picked up the ball, Gelbert, the Penn end, threw him for a safety. The last Harvard man was at least fifty yards from where Brooke stood. He turned and ran back ten or fifteen yards and still couldn't get to the ball, which must have carried seventy yards before it rolled twenty yards

If any one has seen such kicking as this recently it would be interesting to hear about it. And George Brooke could stick close to this mark consistently. Which is to say that he was one of the most consistent of all the brilliant punters the game has known.

Penn had a fine kicker for three years in Paul Scull, and now the Red and Blue has another in Masters, who can hold his own with any kicking back the game can send into action. Masters' kicking against California was one of the factors that helped to keep the Golden Bear in at least fair check.

The Carnegie Report.

"How much discussion will there be this winter over the report of the Carnegie Foundation?" asks H. F.

Probably quite a little. Whether they are harmful or not, the facts are that conditions go well beyond the range of the Carnegie instalment There are thousands of athletic scholarships throughout the United States and the amount of alumni proselyting and outside alumni help is enormous. There may or there may not be much that is wrong about this. Some universities go far beyond others. There are few who don't figure one way or another.

One of the great weaknesses of comparing college teams is that it is rarely a fair or even race, run from scratch. Any number of strong teams have stars enrolled who couldn't get in other universities, or if they landed, couldn't stay in a month. Some universities go out and through one device or another get in as many as fifteen or twenty players. By the word "universities" is meant some part of the university, inside or out. Naturally the university itself is rarely involved.

The demands for and the rewards of a winning team are so great that few can resist the temptation to get the best possible team, under different codes of ethics.

It has been argued that thousands of poorer boys are given college educations in this way, where they would have no chance otherwise. There is a lot to be said for this part of the argument. This undoubtedly happens. The good in the long run may well overbalance any harmful results. But only those universities should be compared who have the same standards of scholarship and about the same ethics in recruiting or in not recruiting preparatory school talent. The Carnegie report at least stirred up discussion about a situation that can stand for still more discussion later on.

The game has known few backs better than Al Marsters, of Dartmouth; few who were as good. And few who were as unlucky. He was a great back when he was a sophomore, one of the best in the game. He was badly hurt as a junior and never had his chance to show. He was just coming back into his own as one of the marvels of the game, one to be remembered with the best, when another serious injury ended his football career.

Marsters could be compared to Grange and Mahan and other stars without any unfavorable ranking. He merely missed their good fortune in the way of accidents and injuries—or their lack of such crippling episodes. Marsters will be remembered as a great football player—one of the greatest in the history of the game. He had speed, power, strength, courage, brains and reckless daring that helped to lift him up with the chosen few.

Whatever happens to Missouri in the coming N. Y. U. game, the Westerners will at least be thankful that no Ken Strong is still running Bulldog Varsity.

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 13.—Coaches Mehre and Thomas will send their men through a scrimmage tomorrow in preparation for the Auburn game which follows on Friday. The scrimmage tomorrow will make the second one this year that the Georgia coaches have staged on the day before a game.

The homecoming affair Friday will be the second game for the Bulldogs in the new stadium and the players are going to try to keep the stadium free from defeats and thereby halt a three-game losing streak. The stadium was dedicated graciously by Yale on October 12 and since that time the Georgia team has been roaming around over the country from Yale on October 12 and since that time the Georgia team has been roaming around over the country from New York to Florida in a none too successful manner. But the boys are back home now and they have made some new resolutions about accepting any more of those "glorious defeats."

The varsity and freshmen went on a scoring spree in the scrimmage here this afternoon. The freshmen took the ball first and started the ball on a drive down the field from their own 10-yard line, which ended up with a touchdown. The ball was then brought back to the Bulldogs'5-yard line and the Bullpups carried it over twice more, one time on a forward pass and the second time on two line bucks by Eberhardt. This bull-necked first year fullback from Texas literally ripped the varsity line to pieces. He carried the ball over half of the time on the long drive down the field and only once was he stopped without gain. Eberhardt has the speed and drive of Heris McCrary and a willingness to work and take punishment which stamps him as a promising fullback.

The Georgia team was not functioning properly on the defense. Or jor change that has been made with one might more properly say that the several former first-string substitutes big freshman line was functioning staging merry fights to oust some of well. The first year line was openthe regulars. Howard Chappelle has ing large holes in the varsity line with regularity and only occasionally did the Bulldogs stop their opponents without gain. Cree Stellings work was about the best in the varsity line. The big player appears to feel more at home playing tackle than he did at guard position.

Notre Dame, on the other hand, has taken its last two games "in stride" to at the peak for Southern California. For the first time since beating Carnegie, Rockne himself will be on the sidelines, even though his ailing leg will keep him in a wheelchair. The psychology of this alone will be a big stimulant to the Hoosiers.

the fact remains that Rockne's Ramblers have convincingly disposed of one of the severest schedules tackled by any team. The workmanlike play of the team, directed on the field by Frank Carideo, one of the best quarterbacks of the season, has impressed even its critics. The polish and the punch is unquestionably there.

Notre Dame has a smoother working backfield array, with Carideo Martin Brill, Jack Elder and either Savoldi or Mullins at fullback, but Southern California has a wealth of fast runners, including Duffield, Saunders, Musick, Hill and Moses. Don Moses is tabbed by coast experts as "the man to watch at Chicago." Ineligible last year and ouf of action éarlier this season because of a broken bone in his foot, Moses is said to have returned to action in fine form.

This fall only Georgia Tech. Georgia, Auburn and Mississippi had schedules which were really representative. They included games with sentative. They included games with conference teams playing representative schedules and also played intersectional contests worthy of note. Vanderbilt's schedule was more difficult and representative than either Tulane's or Tennessee's. It involved meeting Mississippi before they were beaten down. It required the Alabama game, on the Saturday following the game at Nashville, to soften up the Ole Miss outfit. After those two games they were easy for most any opponent, even Sewance managing to tie. Vanderbilt also played Minnesota, one of the best in the middle west. NEW ASSOCIATION.

Formation of a new athletic association with perhaps a post-season game with the winner in the other section, would assure representative schedules, would eliminate the deliberate efforts to make a stepping-stone-schedule and would make it possible to determine the best football tenm in the organization.

Such an organization would also promote natural rivalry which is the essence of competition. As it is now there are too many games which lack enough rivalry to make the contests interesting.

Wilbur Smith, of Tulane, believes that the move to split the conference will be brought before the assembly at Baton Rouge. It will hardly come this year because of existing contracts, but the time is not far off when there will be another secession of the southern strees.

The summonses were drawn in behalf of William F. Kenny, wealthy Brooklyn contractor, who some months ago purchased the one-fifth interest in the Giants held by Arthur E. Soden and William H. Conant, of Boston, and 13 other minority stockholders.

Bondy added that there was no secret about the disbursements of the $410,000 to Mr. Stoneham, but that every loan to the president had been approved not only by the board of directors but also by the stockholders.

Many more of the transactions, he added, were not loans but payments to Mr. Stoneham of money the president had advanced to the club, notably $95.

Lake Forest Country Club, at Chicago, was selected as the meeting place for the 1930 annual meeting of the National Professional Golfers' Association, it was announced Wednesday morning, at the Ansley Hotel, at the closing session of the three-day meeting.

The treasurer was under the impression that the 14 complainants had "looked merely at the disbursements" and had "failed to consider what they were for and whether the amounts had been returned to the club treasury." A firm of certified public accountants, Mr. Bondy added, had gone thoroughly over the club books at the time Mr. Kenny purchased his stock and had "found everything in order."

Francis X. McQuade, a New York magistrate, was treasurer of the club during the period covered by the disputed disbursements. Judge McQuade was not a party to the suit and did not vote his stock yesterday when all of the officers and the directorate were re-elected, but Mr. Bondy said he and Mr. Stoneham would ask the court to make the former treasurer a co-defendant.

Declining comment upon the McQuade "revenge" angle, Mr. Bondy professed to be at a loss regarding the motives of Mr. Kenny and his 13 associates, two of whom Mr. Bondy says voted yesterday to re-elect Mr. Stoneham and assured the club treasurer that they had "no intention of bringing such a suit." These two stockholders, Mr. Bondy continued, plan to withdraw from the case.

The demand for harder schedules is sure to split the conference sooner or later. This reporter objects to the word "harder" in connection with the schedules. What the Southern teams need is more representative schedules with an opponent who is fairly sure to be well up in the running in his town section.

Have You Ever Had a Mint Julep Shave?

You've heard of shaves being cool; of being mooth; of being refreshing and bracing, but there's only one way to describe a BRISK shave and that's a mint julep shave!

BRISK is "there" because of the things it does on your face. First of all, it lathers instantly and freely in hot or cold water and plenty of lather is the first requirement of a

The razor does not "pull" or bump along over your face, but glides sweetly over the skin, cutting down the hair cleanly and Every stroke of the razor does a clean job. No need to go over and over the same spot and "butcher" your face to get a close shave.

Put Your Face in Good Humor for the Day

BRISK has four brothers: ZEST, a refreshing after-shaving lotion; TRIM, a nir dressing in cleanly stick form; SMOOTH, a powder that kills shine without towing powder; STIP, a new type "stoptic" that closes cuts pronto!

Although a few prime investment loans held steady, the selling in general showed little respect for investment values or yields. However, traders expressed the opinion that the depression was only a technical condition directly attributable to the demand for funds created by the continued slump in stocks. Heavy selling carried bond prices sharply downward today, and at the end of the busy three-hour session the averages showed that all but a small fraction of the gains made over the period of more than a month had been lost. The liquidation was similar in character to that of recent markets when bonds have been dumped freely by holders needing funds. The loss in the Associated Press combined average for representative rails, industrials and utilities—40 bonds in all—was approximately half a point, bringing the composite price to 93.65 against	International 5 1-2s, off 7 to 88; Allegheny Corporation 5s of 1949, off 4 to 93; Commercial Investment Trust 5 1-2s, off 2 1-2 to 6t; Missouri Pacific 5 1-2s, off 4 to 97, and Reading Coal & Iron 6s, off 9 1-2 to 80. American Telephone 41-2s held fairly steady, closing a point lower. International Telephone 4 1-2s lost 4 and American I. G. Chemical 5 1-2s dropped 2 1-2. Losses of 1 to 2 points appeared in such industrials as Allis-Chalmers 5s, Armour & Co. 4 1-2s, Standard Oil of New York 4 1-2s and Shell Union Oil 5s. 93.34, the low mark established late in September. A feature of today's trading, which reached a volume of more than $22,000,000, was the easiness of United States government obligations. Liberty 31-2s declined half a point and the first 41-4s went to a new low for the year on a loss of 3-8. Recessions in the remainder of the group were small, but the price movement was in contrast to the strength of governments in recent sessions, when there has been active buying by individual investors and corporations. Utilities and industrials showed	Gas 5 1-2s and Columbia Gas & Electric 5s. 11-2. and New York Telephone general 41-2s 3-4. The Aviation Industry

Readjustment in the aviation industry has been extraordinarily severe, bergh' New York-to-Paris flight caused over-expansion and over-enthusi-This led to over-capacity in the industry, with the consequent necessity of a weeding-out period. That period is well along and many weaker units have fallen by the wayside or have been absorbed by stronger and better managed companies.

The readjustment which has been going on most of this year appears especially severe because growth last year was so great. This slowing up in rate of growth has lead to overpessimism and many people have dumped aircraft stocks so that securi-ties of many of the better companies have depreciated more than condi-

Some idea of recent progress in the aviation industry can be had from the following:

There are now in operation more than 23,000 miles of airway as compared with less than 15,000 at the end of 1928. More than 10,000 miles of of 1928. More than 10,000 miles of airway are now lighted for night flying as compared with less than 7,000 miles December 31, 1928. There has been an increase of 50 per cent in the number of airports during the current year. While it cannot be denied that there has been an over-production of planes and engines in 1929, the ground work for future development of aviation is going ahead at an undiminished rate, and the long tarm outleds is going ahead at an undiminished rate, and the long term outlook is very bright. It is not reasonable to expect the industry to continue its growth at the rate of 200 per cent a year. The fact that a further growth of 25 per cent or so is being seen this year should be considered favorable.

The aircraft industry is still young. The aircraft industry is still young, its recuperative powers great and growth is expected to proceed for several years at the rate of 25 to 50 per cent annually. This is greater than the annual increase for most industries and is likely to result in large appreciation for securities of the leading companies.

Decline Puzzling.

That the continuance of the decline has become highly perplexing not only to the man in the street, but to officials of the stock exchange and leading bankers as well, was indicated in the action of the exchange in requesting members to submit reports of the long and short positions of all accounts. In the absence of bank nor brokerage house failures, or indications of serious conditions in industry, the driving of even select investment stocks to levels where they yield from 6 to 10 per cent, has become mystifying.

There was nothing alarming in the day's news. Freight car loadings and steel production were reported to have declined further, but these developments are largely seasonal around the middle of November and during the next few weeks. Iron age reported implement manufacturers were still large takers. Crude oil production figures for last week were the most fav able in several months. Remington-Rand declared a special dividend of 50 cents, the first in more than two years. Sinclair Oil, however, while declaring the regular dividend on the common, omitted the usual extra of 25 cents.

day under a steady stream of liquidation which carried the active stocks down 1 to 16 points, and sent a number of specialties plunging 20 to 80 points. Trading was in enormous volume, total sales of 2,779,650 shares setting a record for a three-hour session. The ticket was delayed more than two hours in printing the final quotation.

While more than 200 individual stocks broke through to new low levels, such recent leaders as Cities Service and Electric Bond & Share received strong support above the low prices established in the drastic break about two weeks ago. Despite the commous volume of trading, the decline was orderly in character with no wide-open breaks except in a few high-priced specialties for which there is a thin market.

Commonwealth Edison broke nearly 30 points on a few sales. Duke Power, Northern States Power A. Middle West Utilities (old) and Standard Power & Light lost 10 to 17 points in reference to the rights of officers to disregard boulevard stop signs when upon emergency calls will be asked of the city attorney by the police committee of the city council, it was decided at the regular meeting Wednesday night.

The situation was brought to the attention of the committee as the result of a case brought against Detective B. E. Blair by H. A. Clauson, warrant officer of Fort McPherson, in connection with an automobile accident. Action was deferred until the attorney's ruling is given. However, it was the general opinion of the committee that, only in extreme cases should officers disregard traffic stop signs.

Romances of Old Recalled By "Mississippi Gambler"

A pre-view of the "Mississippi Gambler," a Universal production starring Joseph Schildkraut, was shown Wednesday morning at Loew's Capitol Theater.

The film, which is an all-talking romance of the glamorous days of the Mississippi river, is an excellent vehicle for Schildkraut's varied talent.

As a river Apollo, a devil with ladies, and a man among men, the German actor scores a notable success. He plays the part of a romantic raseal, a colorful and picturesque gambler who plays for high stakes but throws down the winning hand when he plays for the biggest stake of his life.

The star is supported by beautiful Joan Bennett, daughter of the stage warden Lewis E. Lawes kept a close watch on known unruly prisoners an intense alertness was maintained which resulted in the transfer of one convict to another prison and the lodging of six in solitary confinement. An unidentified trio of the sextet have been released from solitary, but the remaining three remain alone and under constant guard. The gangsters, riding in three automobiles, drove up to the luge iron gates of the supply base at 1 o'clock this morning.

Sergeant Matthew Murphy, on guard at the gate, didn't even have time to say anything. Before he knew what had happened, five men were jamming guns into his blouse—so forcibly that later he discovered his midiff to be black and blue. The thug made Murphy open the gate and then, bundling him into one of the cars, drove inside and parked.

Taking Murphy with them they proceeded in leisurely fashion to the third floor of the dormitory, where Walter Frelig, in whose cell was found a letter including a draftsman's design of implements to be used, has been sent to Clinton prison. Roy Sloane, Joseph Pioli and Edward Ryan are the trio in solitary confinement. Pioli is serving a 20-year term for the murder of Bill Brennan, pugilist.

The enormous selling movement of the past two sessions has been highly perplexing to Wall Street in general, including officials of the exchange and important banks. A flood of highly alarming and unconfirmable rumors has been set in motion from sources which could not be ascertained.

the seven trading sessions so far this month, stocks have closed generally higher on only one day. Most observers have arrived at the conclusion that such a steady decline could not be attributed in any large measure to abort selling, as shorts are quick to buy stocks to cover their commitments on the first signs of a rally, and such momentary upturns as have occurred have resulted in no covering movement sufficient to turn the list definitely upward.

It appears that if professional bearish activity has been a major factor in this latest decline, it has been under the direction of a pool so powerful that it has been able to thwart all efforts of constructive elements in the market. Such a theory has generally been regarded as unreasonyable, and most observers have attributed the selling to the unloading of atocks by very large traders, who were crippled in the first smash. The selling has been so enormous, however, that even such an explanation has seemed inadequate.
